Carload of Calgary Beer Almost Totally Destroyed on G.T.P. Tracks

OVERHEATED STOVE STARTED IT

The Precious Liquid Destroyed as Mouths of Bystanders Watered.

When the first bell sounded at about 5:30 Sunday morning, the weather glass showed that the mercury was down to 35 below zero, and as a consequence, even the majority of those who heard the alarm did not stir from their warm beds. A more handful of citizens turned out to assist the fireman to extinguish a burning heater car on the G.T.P. tracks.

First Chief Mills, who returned from the East the night before, was one of the first on the scene and despite his and the efforts of the firemen the big gasoline engine refused to start. For what reason, no one seemed to know, although it was finally started but not until the burning car had been pulled to the roundhouse, where a stream of hot water was turned on.

The car contained Calgary beer in bottles and was consigned to hotelmen at Melville, and the bottles in they broke kept the fire in check without entirely destroying the car. Constable Wilson stood guard over the precious fluid and threatened to arrest anyone who took any of the beer, some of which was saved and some of which was otherwise disposed of before Constable Wilson arrived.

The fire started from an overheated or defective stove. The car was on the side track a little west of the elevator, and when the fire was first noticed the yard engine pulled it near the station so that the brigade could better handle it. It was a C.P.R. car and was not totally destroyed.

LOCAL CADET CORPS
IS NOW ORGANIZED

Principal McLean Expects to Have Big Corps
Here Soon.

Principal McLean has organized a cadet corps at the local school and the first drill was held in the basement of the building on Friday evening. Twenty-four boys have joined, including several boys not in attendance at the school. Mr. McLean expects that the number will be increased to about thirty before the end of the month. The organization of the corps was done by Mr. McLean.

Arthur King, who took instruction at Calgary, put the cadets through part of their drill on Friday.

H. C. KING LEAVES
FOR PRINCE GEORGE

H. C. King has left for Prince George, where he hopes to finally locate, although there is a possibility that he will abandon the idea of starting in business in the new G.T.P. town. It is said that Mr. King has been offered a good position in the city of Edmonton that he may accept. He will go to Prince George first.

WAINWRIGHT WON OUT OVER VIKING
BY CLOSE MARGIN

Game was Closely Contested and Anybody's from Start to Finish.

GOALTENDER SAVED BIG SCORE

"Bill" Washburn Referred to Satisfaction of Both Teams.

Wainwright won its first hockey game of the season on Friday afternoon, when Viking suffered defeat to the tune of 1-0, in a game that was slow at times and brimful of spectacular individual work at others. It was almost any body's game from start to finish, although the local septette shot on the Viking net many times more than the visitors came anywhere near scoring. Three twenty minute periods were played, and the first two proved poor hockey, no score being made by either team by the end of the second period.

Practically no combination play of any kind was witnessed during the entire match. McLeod, the speedy Viking rover and captain of his team, made several spectacular rushes, much after the style of Livingstone, who made a good showing in individual play. Livingstone scored for Wainwright on a splendid rush from cover point, passing in succession the entire team. Avery, who stood between the posts for Viking, stopped a score of bad shots and many fans were of the opinion that he was the best tender ever seen on local ice.

W. E. Washburn referred the game very satisfactorily and his decisions were well received by both teams. He penalized Thompson, the Viking cover point, several times for tripping and caught most of the rough work. Livingstone and Cork of the local septette were penalized for minor offences.

APPRECIATES IT

As I have lost all track of the amount I owe for my weekly paper, will you kindly give me credit for the enclosed $1.00, and if I am still in arrears, notify me at once, because I honestly believe that you publish the best paper of any small town in the west.

Town considerable property in your town, and although it is in the Central Park subdivision, and will have some waiting to do, yet I am convinced that you have every reason to believe that Wainwright will some day become a city of importance.

Yours respectfully,
Thos. C. Armstrong,
Maple Creek, Sask.

Mr. H. E. Taylor, of High River, who visited his daughter, Mrs. L. E. Minter, Gilt Edge, has returned home.

Arthur King, son of H. C. King, of this town, has been appointed in charge of Edmonton school and took over his duties some time ago.

Mrs. A. E. Fraser will leave here today for Detroit, Mich., to spend the rest of the winter with friends and relatives. She will return about the first of April.

The thermometer mercury took a sudden drop. It has even been as far down as forty-two below zero.

EASTERNERS ARE CONFIDENT OVER
TOWN'S FUTURE

Councillor Mills Saw Many Optimistic Wainwright Property Owners in Montreal.

WILL BECOME A CITY IS BELIEF

Least Trouble with These Men Is Money They Will Invest
Says Mr. Mills.

On his return from Montreal, A. E. Mills, who visited that city for a short time, expressed great satisfaction as a result of the prevalent optimistic feeling there over Wainwright's prospects. Mr. Mills stated to the STAR that property holders in the east are confident that the town in which they have invested their money will become one of the large cities of the west.

"So much faith have they in our town," said Mr. Mills, "that they express their willingness to promote a company to drill for gas and establish a distributing plant at a cost of $75,000. The least trouble down there is getting the money, for moneyed men who have already put some of their money into Wainwright are willing to invest a great deal more."

Mr. Mills went east in connection with business matters. The Wainwright Realty Co., with which he is connected, has an office in Montreal, in charge of L. G. Robinson, who was among the pioneers who pitched their tents on the raw prairie on which the town of Wainwright has been built.

WILL BRING 150 HEAD
CATTLE FROM ENGLAND

An old country paper states that John W. Wood has purchased one hundred and fifty head of cattle, all of which are thoroughbred Shorthorns. He will bring these from England with him in the spring. It is understood that he will place them on his land near town and go into cattle business as well as grain-growing.

BOARD OF TRADE
ELECTIONS COME
AT EARLY DATE

President Says No Banquet will be Held as in Former Years.

FINANCIAL REPORT FOR YEAR '13

Secretary Shirley Hasn't Received Salary and Says He Doesn't Want Any.

The financial report of the board of trade for the year ending December 31st, appears on another page of this issue and should be closely followed by those who have asked on numerous occasions of late where the grant of $250 from the town went to. The report is complete and shows a balance of $40.22 at this time.

According to President Mills, the probability is that no banquet will be held this year, an affair, which, it might be said, in former years proved most enjoyable. It generally followed the election of officers for the year and was a fitting ending to an evening's meeting where enthusiasm was always prevalent.

It is now time that a meeting for the election of officers for 1914 should be held, and President Mills announces that this will be advised at an early date. J. C. Shirley, who acted as secretary during the past year, has received no remuneration for his services and stated at a late meeting that he did not wish any.

SUMMONS SERVED FOR FAILURE TO PROVIDE ASH CANS

Town Thought Conviction would Prove Difficult so Cases were Withdrawn.

Four summons were served on local people last week by Policeman Kenny to appear before Justice of the Peace Ross for failing to provide suitable ash cans. Among those summoned were Mrs. Coleman, A. Coffield and N. E. Cook. When court opened at 7:30 on Thursday evening, Town Secretary Kenny made a few remarks, claiming that the council wished the cases withdrawn, in the first instance because Mrs. Coleman understood that the seavenger was to bring around the ash cans to her. Mr. Coffield had signified his willingness to provide a suitable can and N. E. Cook had one, and whether or not it was large enough the town would have difficulty in proving. He was of the opinion that a conviction could not be secured.

Magistrate Ross dismissed the cases on condition that these parties pay the cost of the summons, which was $1.00 each. The parties in question were not fined as some thought. Ash cans have been procured by them since.

VIKING WON BOTH
CURLING MATCHES

The curling teams from Viking were successful in defeating local rinks skipped by J. L. Garrow and H. V. Fieldhouse, the first by a score of 9-5 and the latter by a 13-7. The Viking rinks came down with the hockey team and played in the evening on Friday last.

W. B. Crawford was a business visitor to Edmonton over Sunday, returning here yesterday.

MAIL LINER STRANDED ON EASTERN COAST

FANCY DRESS CARNIVAL PROVED
GREAT SUCCESS IN EVERY WAY

One Hundred and Fifty Appeared on Ice in Costume from whom Judges Had Great Difficulty Making their Selections.

The carnival at the rink on Wednesday evening last was one of the best ever seen here and among the hundred and fifty and odd characters in costume on the ice were many that did great credit to those who dressed for the affair. From the youngest tots to men and women of all ages, the people of the town were represented.

One feature of the carnival was the fact that so many girls dressed as men and so many men appeared in female attire, the latter being particularly noticeable and amusing. The howling suffragette, not militant for she had no occasion to be, and the quiet washerwoman and wench of all colors and description were on the ice, making their way as best they could against the inconvenience of skirts and many feathered pillows, to say nothing of those who delighted in molesting them continually.

Glittering costumes of all colors, begging description in many cases, made the affair one of a varied nature. Little tots, just able to skate, found their way with difficulty around the ice. The six ghosts, representing the Ku Klux Klan were among the mysteries of the evening, causing a creepy feeling among both spectators and skaters.

The judges for the evening were Mrs. Dawson, Mrs. N. B. Walton, S. E. James and N. E. Cook and great difficulty was experienced in choosing the winners, although their decisions were generally popular with the spectators. The prize for the best dressed lady went to Mrs. R. G. Henry, who represented Blue Beard's wife in a costume that beggars description. Miss Ethel Mohr, dressed as Yama Yama, received the prize for the best novelty costume. Some difficulty was experienced in deciding on the best fancy costume among the gentlemen, the prize finally being awarded to James Primrose, who was dressed in a gorgeous Indian costume. The most comical character on the ice among the men was Ray Greer, who masqueraded as a meek and docile suffragette.

Evelyn Grainger as Queen of the Fairies was given the prize for the best fancy dress in the girl class, and special prizes donated by S. E. James and N. E. Cook, were given to Norma Shirley, as Blue Beard and Mary Scofield, representing the Wainwright Star. The most comical character among the girls was Sophia Kenny, who was dressed as Snookums, Their Only Child. The best dressed boy was Harry King, who represented Robin Hood in a characteristic and elaborate costume. Melville Kemp received the prize for the best novelty costume, Wainwright Flour.

Other characters on the ice deserving special mention were—Spanish Dancer, Mildred King Indian Girl, Pokowanna, Miss Sims; Colored Lady (of no mean proportions) Jack Telford and many others, both attractive and very amusing. The rink management also deserves special mention for the manner in which the affair was handled and all who attended to make it a success. It is said that another carnival will be held in the near future.

G. L. Hudson, M.P.P., is expected home from Ottawa the latter part of the week or the first of next, when the sixteen Alberta members will return west.

A return hockey match with Viking on the afternoon of Tuesday, February 3rd, will be played at Viking. A game is also being arranged with Camrose at an early date.

All local theatre patrons should bear in mind that the best concert company that ever visited here will appear in the Elite theatre on the evening of February 27th. The seat sale is on at the Red Cross Pharmacy.

Series of Sermons On Biblical Characters Being Heard
at Methodist Church

MRS. BATEMAN'S DEATH IN CHINA

Classed Her with Other Christian
Workers who Have Laid Down Lives.

A series of sermons on biblical characters is being preached in Grace Methodist church every Sunday evening by Rev. C. R. Corcoran. Adam, the first man, was first dealt with and on Sunday evening last, Abel was the subject of the text. Enoch will be the next bible character discussed. Rev. Mr. Corcoran pointed out on Sunday evening that the sacrifice made by Abel, when his brother slew him, was being portrayed even to this day and that Wainwright has seen the noble work of men and women who have laid down their lives as a sacrifice to God and the Christian church.

In this connection, a glowing reference was made to Mrs. T. W. Bateman who succumbed in China last August. Mrs. Bateman went to China in 1910 with her husband to do missionary work, after his resignation as first pastor of Grace church. Mr. Corcoran stated that Mrs. Bateman gave her life as a sacrifice to the Christian world while carrying on missionary work among the heathens of China.

Dr. McQueen, O. J. Elder and N. S. Kenny was re-elected on the managing board for the ensuing year, the new members being H. A. Cook, A. G. Ferrel and A. D. Ferguson.

The services on Sunday were conducted by Rev. Mr. Simons, of Vermilion, in the absence of Rev. A. Russell, who is out of town.

RILEY WON GAME
BY SCORE OF 17-3

Local Septette Played at Tofoed and Again Beaten by 5-4 Score.

Although the hockey team has not returned from Ryley where they played yesterday, distressing news comes from that town to the effect that Wainwright was trounced by a score of 17-3. The local boys played with only half a team and expected to get beaten before starting. All the regulars could not get away to play.

The team played at Tofoed last night and lost again, the score being 5-4 in favour of Tofoed. A dispatch from that town says the game was fast from start to finish. Return matches will be played here in the near future.

The regular meeting of the hospital Union will be held next door to the telephone office on Monday afternoon next, commencing at 2:30 p. m.

E. K. Smith, manager of the Union Bank here, has been gazetted as a notary public.

WAINWRIGHT ALTA. WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 28th. 1914

No man ever helped himself knocking other people down in character and business.

In spite of the cry of hard times and a continuation of the financial stringency, many are of the opinion that the tide will soon turn and that better times are ahead. The STAR is of the belief that the country has seen the worst that is to be, something that is arrived at by an observation of conditions throughout the west. Although the railways are seeing one of the slackest times for business that they ever saw, and even though the progress of the railways indicate the conditions of the country more or less, it cannot be said that times are any worse than during the past three months. Even though business houses are faring none too good, the condition of affairs is as good as it has been for the past while. It would then appear that the prediction of greater financial stringency is not coming true.

Only locally and in the province can these conditions be judged and when they are noted there is no cause for discouragement. January is usually a dull month of the year, and February will prove no better, so the likelihood is that no immediate change will be seen until spring. Financial institutions are sitting tight and banks are pulling the strings of the money bags on the speculator, but so far as legitimate business is concerned, reliable business houses are finding no difficulty in financing through the banking houses. But this has been the state of affairs for months past and during the fore part of the year it cannot be expected that the banks will loan money extravagantly until some idea of what the year will prove can be formed.

SMALL TOWNS LESS AFFECTED DURING HARD TIMES.

The smaller towns seem less affected than the larger cities, chiefly because in times such as these the unemployed flock to cities looking for work and there is little or no change in the employment situation so far as small towns are concerned, for there is not a great deal to be found at anytime in business lines, there is a slight falling off, which is certainly not as noticeable as in the cities where old and established firms are having a hard time to keep their heads above water. In hard times, the small towns have it on the cities.

If residents of this town and district believe in the locality they are living in they should lose no time in their endeavour to make Wainwright and its vicinity an even more desirable location. Those who have come and saw for themselves what they were previously given to understand was true owe it as a duty to others to pass on the good news. The past has proved many things—the future will prove even more.

Behind the confidence of those who have lived here for the past five years, there are reasons sufficient to hold these people here for many years to come. In the mind of many, Wainwright stands on the threshold of greater progress and prosperity than it has ever known. That the immediate future will mean much for the town will be proven. Development along many lines is bound to come. With this progress will come many people and with more people, greater prosperity. It is not expected that progress will follow with any great rapidity, and not many would prefer a boom that would soon die out. Rather, those who expect to remain here would wish to see the town and district advance with a sureness, comparative to the solidity of the country. And it will, providing conditions do not change for the worse.

Everyone who is interested in the prospect of a greater and more prosperous community should boost Wainwright and its district. Settlement should be encouraged. People should be advised that ours is one of the best localities in western Canada, proof of which is available on every hand. A large number of citizens and farmers have been resting on their oars during the past twelve months, but with every indication of better and more prosperous times they should resume the good work where they left off and continue a system of sane publicity. If this is done, greater things than have yet been accomplished will become a reality.

GREATER PROGRESS WILL BECOME A REALITY

THE industrial world is often astonished, but perhaps its greatest astonishment came a short time ago, when Henry Ford, head of the Ford Motor Company, announced the details of his profit sharing plan, whereby ten million dollars of the years profits will be shared with employees. As a consequence, Henry Ford is the most talked of man on the North American continent and there is good reason for it in the fact that he will make a move towards settling the labor situation which prevails in both Canada and United States.

It is believed that Ford's latest move is a spark that will start to kindle a revolution in the industrial world. It is a step towards giving the labouring man a share of what he produces and is an initial triumph for socialism and the principles it teaches. The employees of the Ford factory at Detroit, Mich., numbering thirty thousand in all, will get what they have produced in profits. The public, apart from those on the pay roll of the big company, will also share in the profits, which will arise out of Ford's decision to manufacture automobiles that can be sold at smaller cost than others with lesser profits.

Twenty years ago, Henry Ford was unheard of, except among those who knew him in Detroit, where he was employed as assistant engineer in the electric lighting plant. In 1895, he built his first car and met financial difficulties from the start. These, however, he overcame shortly after, when he showed financial men that his invention was a money-maker. His success was marvelous from the start. Additions to his factory sprang up, until today his plant at Detroit is more extensive than the famous Krupp plant at Essen, Germany.

SPARK THAT WILL KINDLE INDUSTRIAL REVOLUTION

out of Ford's decision to manufacture automobiles that can be sold at smaller cost than others with lesser profits.

THERE is a feeling about town that too much money is being paid for polling, and in such a claim there is good reason, considering that there has been a change, whereby the two cannot afford to pay $135 per month for two policemen to keep law and order during the day and night. The STAR contends, however, that this was not too much last year for what was received in return. In addition to getting a good service from the day and night men as they could give, the town received a revenue which helped pay the salaries of these men. Licenses was charged the pool rooms, motion picture showmen the hotels. Legislation passed at the last session has taken away this power from provincial towns and the town must stand the expense of two policemen to prevent trouble that invariably originates around these places of business. License fees from them are paid into the province and the town gets nothing.

There is one answer to the question as to whether or not this is fair. Should the town be under an expense of $135 per month and the attorney general's department confiscate all monies that have heretofore gone to help protection? The province makes no provision for furnishing protection to either hotels, pool rooms or motion picture houses. The responsibility and expense is left to the towns. Policemen must then be retained to devote the greater part of their time keeping down lawlessness either in or arising out of these places of business. It is not fair to the towns of the province to deprive them of what little revenue they have been accustomed to receive. In respect to license, however, the matter cannot be remedied and towns must submit.

Under the circumstances as they exist, Wainwright will be paying too much for policing the town if both policemen are retained. In view of these circumstances, something should be done to cut down expense, or the town council should make an effort to have some suitable protection provided by the government. Wainwright is not noted as a town wherein much trouble starts; in fact it is always spoken of as a place where law is respected. Where then is the necessity of having two men to do what one man might very well perform?

ARE TWO POLICEMEN REALLY NECESSARY? For furnishing protection to either hotels, pool rooms or motion picture houses. The responsibility and expense is left to the towns. Policemen must then be retained to devote the greater part of their time keeping down lawlessness either in or arising out of these places of business. It is not fair to the towns of the province to deprive them of what little revenue they have been accustomed to receive. In respect to license, however, the matter cannot be remedied and towns must submit.

THE SOCIAL DEMOCRATS ON TRADE QUESTION

They Contain the German Tariff is Greatly in the Interests of Agriculture

In Germany the social Democrats or the party of the urban masses are the low tariff or the free trade party, as opposed to the agriculturists who have protection in their home market for the food products they raise. According to "Country Life in Canada" in an article published in its November issue, the Social Democrats are evidently of the opinion that the policy of protection is greatly in the interests of the agricultural population. A manifesto issued by this party makes a declaration that "The Policy (of protection) throws overboard $400,000,000 a year into the laps of our agriculturists at the expense of the non-agricultural population. Not only meat, but bread, butter, eggs, and above all, milk—the principal food of our children—have risen greatly in price already and the leaders of the Agrarian organizations are endeavoring to take further advantage of the situation to make life still harder for the poor and the very poor in town and country."

The Agricultural Value
If this is true in Canada, and also in the price of food stuffs and the color of similar color, it would seem evident to some extent at least that the policy of protection has not been without advantage to the farmers of Canada, particularly those in mixed farming. The agricultural value of Protection seems to be further indicated by the fact that agriculture has been raised in Great Britain under Free Trade. In Canada on the other hand it is widely admitted that Protection benefits industrial workers as well as farmers. Many political economists, acting on the principle that what is one man's meat must be another man's poison, think that Protection must necessarily be an agricultural poison solely because it provides nourishment for industry. They find in the growth of manufactures sure proof of the farmer's ruin. That is as ridiculous as to say that no man can become rich without impoverishing some other man; that no bullock is a hard can grow fat without some other bullock growing thin. Still, some of the wise men who do not believe that the farmer can really be prosperous until every factory is closed down are like Goldsmith's schoolmaster who even though vanquished could argue still. They will cry out triumphantly, "Show us if you are able how it can ever be to the farmer's advantage to pay $10 for an article which could be bought in the States for $5." Putting aside the question, whether this article could be bought for $5 after the tariff wall had been thrown down and the American trust had disposed of Canadian competition, we can consider what is the effect of this $10 spent in Canada under the present system of trade regulation.

Where Canada Benefits
Part goes to wages to the Canadian workman who consumes the bulk of the farmer's produce. Part goes to the agents of distribution who are also Canadians and customers of the farmers. Part goes to the manufacturer, who is likewise a consumer and enables him to pay higher wages and employ more workmen, thus still further increasing the farmer's market. He is able at the same time to perfect his industrial processes and by increased production to bring down the price of the article he manufactures, thus benefiting the farmer and consumer. The savings of both workmen and manufacturers are deposited in Canadian banks, the financial strength of which immensely accelerates business and lessens the peril of financial crises. The farmer both benefits by this business expansion and stability in an indirect way through enlarged markets, but is also helped personally whenever he derives a loan from the bank. In fact, the new banking regulations which permit loans on farm lands, machinery and products were only made possible by the prosperity due to the growth of industry in Canada. This prosperity is reflected also in the credit which the country enjoys abroad by reason of which we have secured immense sums of money to build our transportation systems to carry the merchant's goods to the farmers and the farmer's produce to his Canadian customers. Whenever any citizen rides in a train or receives a letter through the post or secures credit at the bank he is enjoying an advantage which the purchasing power of the whole country has secured for him. England's merchant marine will always be content to transport Canadian grain across the Atlantic in the interests of the English market, but only the interests of the Canadian market have built and maintain our island communications.

SALE OF PRODUCTS OF MIXED FARMING

Where the City Comes in on the Question of a Wider Market For This Produce

The diversified products of mixed farming, such as dairy supplies, pontry, eggs, vegetables, etc., are pariah-able to a much greater extent than the products of grain farming. The question naturally arises, therefore,
where will the products of the mixed farm of the West be sold? The market must be near at hand to get the best results, as many of the products of the diversified farmer cannot be shipped to advantage over long distances. The Saskatchewan farmer call attention to the market problem in its August issue. It emphasizes the fact that production must not be allowed to get too far ahead of marketing facilities. To quote the Saskatchewan farmer: "Forty farmers mixed, striving to be the best with a population of 100 cannot find a home market for all the butter, eggs, potatoes, and vegetables that they could readily produce. If 50 per cent. of the farmers in Saskatchewan engaged in mixed farming they would soon get the markets of every city, town and village in Saskatchewan. It is quite evident that the tide of mixed farming is rising. Not only are many farmers producing for sale other products than grain, but a large number are now supplying their own wants in the way of butter, eggs, meat and vegetables.
Those who are doing so are very materially reducing the cost of their living. The question is: Are we preparing for a full tide of production of mixed farming products?"

The development of manufacturing centres throughout the Prairie Provinces will provide the best kind of market for the products of the new mixed farms. It is well that attention is being directed to marketing facilities this early in the development of mixed farming. Efforts should be made to have the products of the farm reach the consumer in the most direct route and in the shortest time. Eliminate the middleman should be the slogan of the mixed farmer and his urban customer.
Factory growth in the West will be more rapid than ever in the next ten years under the present trade policy, and it is altogether likely that the best of workmen, who will be required to man the new industries, along with their wives and families, will consume
all the food supplies the Western farmer can raise.

PROTECTIVE DUTY NOT STEEL BOUNTY

A Wise Policy for the West is to Strive to Become Great in Manufacturing

Discussing the convention of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association
at Halifax, the Toronto Star quotes
the Halifax Herald as follows:—
"One of the readjustments required, according to the views of the president of the association, is in the wool-schedule. As he very properly intimated, in an agricultural country, such as this, there should be a great woolen industry, providing a home market for a great wool-raising industry. That we have not such a great wool-raising industry is well known, and it is scarcely likely that we ever will have, unless the tariff is so readjusted as to stimulate and build up a great woolen industry providing a profitable home market for wool. The other schedule that President Gourlay mentioned as needing readjustment was that covering the basic industries of iron and steel. This view will, we believe, meet with general approval. The bounty system served a useful purpose for a time, but that is of the past and should not, we think, be revived. We never could feel quite in favor of a bounty system of a protective tariff.
But an adequate protective tariff our iron and steel industry certainly should have. As it is at present, there are lines of iron and steel manufactures which have no protection whatever against the producers of the United States. Too much concession to any free trade climax that may be in the West should not be made. If the West is wise it will strive to become a manufacturing country at the earliest possible date, and to that vitally important end the maintenance of the National Policy of moderate protection is just as essential for the West as for the East."

It is sometimes represented that the people of the Maritime Provinces are a unit in favor of lower tariff and ultimate free trade. Apparently there are still some of the papers, and presumably some of their readers who realize the advantages that the whole community derives through encouragement by a reasonable trade policy in manufacturing industries.

HOME MARKET SAVED STATES FROM DISASTER

A Glance at Development in the United States—Early Industrial History—Jefferson and the Tariff

In seven years, 1807-1814, when excluded from the markets of Europe by Napoleon's Berlin, Decree and Great Britain's retaliatory acts, American trade was ruined. Her exports fell from $115,000,000 to a little over seven millions. There was a financial crisis and even the government lost credit. A government loan for seven and a half millions failed miserably, only one-third being subscribed.

Manufactures Necessary

The United States was forced to build up a home market or else perish. Her protective policy dates from 1816. Long before this Jefferson had said, "The therefore who is now against domestic manufactures must be for reducing us either to a dependence on a foreign nation or to be clothed in skins and live like wild beasts in dens and caverns." It is equally true of Canada that manufactures are necessary to our independence as our comfort. By the time of the Civil War, 1861-5, the United States possessed a home market principally due to the tariff for the cloth and the foreign trade brought bankruptcy to the Confederate States. The North, with a superior vitality due to a home market resting on the two pillars of agriculture and manufacturing industry, emerged from a devastating war into a new era of prosperity.

Lesson to Canada

These two chapters of United States history are not without an important bearing upon present day Canada. With the balance of trade so immensely against us as it is, it is certain that in the event of serious European complications and the loss of our foreign markets our only anchor in the storm would be our home market, that is our power of self-help. Nothing else would keep our farmers and manufacturers from being swept headlong into a bottomless abyss of commercial stagnation. In this era of international peace and British naval supremacy Canada should make the best of its opportunities to ensure its economic independence. There can be no greater incentive to increased production than safe and sure markets in the neighborhood of the producer, no stronger stimulus than the proximity of farms to cities.

NEW FACTORIES

Qualifying Progress in Industrial Property at Medicine Hat

According to the Calgary "Standard" the steel for the new plant of the Saskatchewan Bridge and Iron Co., Limited, at Medicine Hat is now being erected so that work can get on all winter. A new gas well has been completed, and the company will commence the erection of forty homes for its employees shortly. This is a factor in industrial development which is too often lost sight of. Every factory of any consequence means at least an addition of one hundred in population to the town in which the industry is located. That is, each merchant and every farmer in the neighborhood has one hundred more prospective purchasers for his products. One hundred more people have to be fed and clothed, and the volume of trade and traffic in the town in question increases proportionately.

Payroll Increased

The Ogilvie Flour Mills Company, Limited, which started grinding in its new mill on July 2nd, found it necessary to put on another shift of men, and the mill is now running at the full initial capacity of 2,000 barrels every twenty-four hours. In addition to the local and district demand, which Manager Armstrong states has been satisfactory, this mill has large orders on hand for England and the Orient. For the latter a shipment of 7,500 sacks, sent out a short time ago, is being followed by another of 15,000 sacks, the first car of the latter order having been shipped to Hong Kong, China. One feature is the facility with which the mill, such as bran, shorts, etc., has been disposed of. Very often this is a problem with flour mills, but in this case the mill has not been able to keep pace with the orders. This indicates, some degree, how the farmers are girls sang, Afton Water (words by Burns).

Harry King, the editor, read the Gazette and the meeting was closed with the singing of Auld Lang Syne and God Save the King. This was one of the most successful meetings the society has held.

turning more and more to diversified farming and stock raising.

The Ideal Policy

It is gratifying to see such progress in the industrial development of Medicine Hat. Medicine Hat is not the only Western city that is beginning to show the fruits of the stable trade policy which Canada has maintained for the last twenty years. Granted reasonable encouragement, Canadian industries will expand and increase in number until we approach the point where we can take care of most of our home market. That is the ideal towards which the policy of the country should be directed, rather than the transference of our manufacturing enterprises to foreign countries.

IDLE WORKMEN IN THE STATES

One Serious Result of the Wilson Tariff, as Set Forth by a Chicago Importer

According to the Chicago "American" of November 21st, the Wilson Tariff will not prove to be a great boon to those who work for a living—and they will soon find it out. A Chicago importer writing in the "American" says: "The new tariff means that manufacturers in this country must compete more closely with the manufacturers in Europe. And that means, of course, that workmen in this country must compete more directly with workmen in Europe. I know something about the making and selling of cloth, from the mill and as a finished product. And here are three facts: The new tariff will save money for those that are prosperous—that buy their things in Europe—or buy exclusively imported European products. The new tariff will not save a dollar in the cost of living or dressing for the masses of workmen and the little people of modest incomes. And the tariff will deprive of work many thousands of those who work for a living in this country. Thousands of men whose work has been done in America and sold in America will lose their present employment, for the reason that the work that they have been doing will be done in Europe and sold in America. Just watch the importations of woollen goods, for instance, into this country. A Blow to Industry

"The new tariff means that one-third of all the looms in the United States will be shut down. That means that one-third of all the human beings earning a living at the looms will have to find some other way of earning a living. It is not gay for them and cheerful for those who realize that the welfare of a country depends absolutely upon the welfare of the mass of the population. You know that when workers in this country are brought into direct competition with workers in another country they must accept the pay of the foreign workers or give up the work. You know, also, that an employer cannot successfully reduce wages. You cannot maintain your business in this country and carry on your enterprise with a lot of dissatisfied men whose pay has been reduced. Therefore, the only thing that a manufacturer can do when he finds it necessary to cut down wages in order to meet foreign competition is to close his mill or his factory absolutely. Then, after a while, he can reopen with a lot of new men as new hands. And that is what a good many will have to do. This country is a big enterprise, a business enterprise, a manufacturing enterprise built up slowly on a certain basis. Many of those who work for a living and many manufacturers who have tried to build up industries in this country are going to realize that experimenting with settled conditions is dangerous."

The Lesson is Plain

Those who have seen the production of woollen cloth in Canada decline from an average of $18,000,000 per year in 1896, when the population of the country was only about five millions, to $6,000,000 in 1913, when the population was eight millions, can realize the force of the Chicago "American's" argument. When an English workman is willing to make cloth at less than one-half the wages at which a Canadian workman will make it, some form of protection must be afforded the Canadian workman and his family unless we wish to reproduce the conditions which prevail in the crowded centres of Great Britain. If the British preference was still further increased, as has been advocated, no cloth would be made in Canada and we would be perpetuating the low wage conditions which prevail in English woollen mills.

The first meeting of the 1914 council of L.I.D. 423 was held last Thursday, when D. W. Hansen was reappointed secretary at a salary of $325 a year. The tax rate was set at 5 cents an acre. All the councillors were in attendance.

POLMATER SISTERS WILL BE SEEN HERE

Well Known Concert Company will be at Elite Theatre Evening Feb 27.

Wainwright is to be visited soon by an entire lady orchestra, which will prove to be something new to local theatre patrons. The orchestra consists of the five Polmater sisters, each one an artist in her line of work. This concert will be the musical event of the season, and all lovers of good music should take advantage of this opportunity of hearing something really worth while. The Polmater sisters come highly recommended from the largest towns and cities of the United States and Canada. Having their headquarters in New York until this season, they have played all over the states and Canada with marked success. Besides instrumental music, the program consists of vocal solos and trios as well as readings. The following is from the Journal, Ft. William, Ont.: "Those who were not present at the Polmater Sisters' concert last evening, certainly missed one of the treats in the musical line, of the whole season. The program was exceptionally fine, opening with two selections by the orchestra, Miss LaSela won the admiration of the audience by her humorous readings, which were all much enjoyed and caused great merriment."

SCHOOL LITERARY SOC'Y OBSERVED BURNS' BIRTHDAY

On Friday afternoon last, the Literary Society at the school celebrated the anniversary of Robert Burns, the famous Scotch poet, which occurred on January 25th.

The program commenced with a piano solo by Merle Mabey, entitled Tam O'Shanter, from the words by Burns. Cecil Ward read a paper on the life of Burns and a speech on the same subject was given by Eldie Mitchell. Readings on Burns were also given by Mabel Borden, Faith Douglas and Dorothy Ross, after which some of the
